What to Expect:

During the initial visit, Dr. Hnilica will review the past treatments and testing to make sure that we don't repeat tests or treatments unnecessarily.

Microscopic cytology will be performed to identify any secondary infection. The underlying disease causing the recurrent infections and symptoms will be identified.

Finally, an all inclusive treatment plan for both immediate crisis and long-term control will be discussed.

Most patients have success within 2-3 visits and can be well controlled with a tremendous improvement in their skin disease.

Dr. Keith Hnilica graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1993. After graduating, Dr. Hnilica completed a small animal internship, residency in Dermatology, and Masters at Auburn University and became a board certified member of the American College of Veterinary Dermatology in 1997. Dr. Hnilica was selected into the University of Georgia's Lilly Teaching Fellowship Program and in 2007 he completed an MBA program at the University of Tennessee. Dr. Hnilica was on faculty at the University of Georgia for 3 years and at The University of Tennessee for 8 years.

Dr. Hnilica is the author of the leading dermatology textbook, Small Animal Dermatology; A color Atlas and Therapeutic Guide, which has been translated into 9 languages. Dr Hnilica continues to teach and lecture all across the United States.
